

Keuka SPRING

2018 Dry Rosé

Vineyard & Winemaking Notes

We use the saignée process to bleed juice from the red grapes right after crushing to limit tannin extraction. We ferment particular sublots of juice in neutral barrels with simultaneous malolactic to round out the texture and add richness to the wine.

Appellation	Finger Lakes
Growers	Keuka Spring Vineyards, Anthony Road Wine Co., Doyle Vineyards, Standing Stone Vineyards, Sawmill Creek Vineyards, Atwater Vineyards
Composition	Lemberger, Cabernet Franc, Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon
Vintage	2018
Harvest dates	October 5, 8, 10, 14, 19 and 22, 2018
Winemaker	August Deimel
Fermentation	70% fermented and aged in tanks, 30% in neutral barrels
Alcohol by volume	12%
Residual sugar	0.4%
Sweetness perception	Dry
Bottling date	January 18, 2019
Production	425 cases

Tasting Notes

Our light coral-toned Dry Rosé is a joyful wine that blooms on the palate with cherry and strawberry notes and surprises the senses with its round and weighty texture.

Food Pairing Ideas

Lighter fare like poultry, salads with protein, and anything cheesy!